

The Democrat.

L. G. GOULD, Editor.

Thursday June 24, 1875.

The "shaking" of the earth on last Friday, was only the reverberating response of the people to the glorious ticket and platform, made the day before at Columbus. It will be heavier on the 2d Tuesday of Oct.

If the stealing of a $100,000 of the hard-earnings of the toiling people, makes a "capable and judicious statesman," what kind of a statesman is Boss Shepherd, who has stolen his millions?

Old "Jim Jans" of the Register, asks our attention to an article from the Catholic Telegraph, on the school question. The opinions of the Catholic Telegraph, of Cincinnati, are no more the sentiments of the Democratic party, than the denial of the Grant organs that Grant is not working for a third term, are the sentiments of the great salary grabber and public robber.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The ticket placed in nomination by the Convention, which assembled at Columbus on the 17th inst., is unexceptionable in every respect, and one that cannot help but command the support of a majority of the voters of Ohio. Of the head of that ticket, Hon. WILLIAM ALEX, it is hardly necessary that we should speak. In him the people of Ohio have found an Executive without suspicion or stain, the most prominent feature of whose character is his integrity. Never was this quality more conspicuous in a public servant; it has adorned every day of his life, and under all circumstances remains as unsullied as that of childhood, and all who have come in contact with him, whether in private life or upon public forum, bear witness to the rectitude of his purposes and the practical integrity which has characterized his conduct, during the fifty years of his political life, and the unanimity with which the people of Ohio endorse his administration, insures his election again by an overwhelming majority.

The nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Hon. SAMUEL F. CAREY, is a recognition of one of the finest orators in the west, and his devotion to the producing and industrial classes of Ohio, deserves for him the support of every laboring man and farmer in Ohio, and we are satisfied they will stand by him at the ballot-box on the second Tuesday of October, notwithstanding the efforts of a few speculators and political enemies to defame his character on the eve of the Convention. He was a Republican so long as that party remained honest and faithful to the Constitution, but when it openly trampled upon and disregarded the laws of our land, and became rotten and corrupt, like many other good men, he got on board the Democratic ship.

THOMAS Q. ASHBURN, of Clermont, was nominated for Supreme Judge. Judge Ashburn has occupied a seat upon the Common Pleas Bench of Clermont, Brown and Adams, and is a gentleman of fine acquirements, and a high order of ability.

Hon. E. M. GREENE, of Shelby county, was nominated for Auditor of State. He has served several terms as Auditor of Shelby county, was a member of the Legislature in 1873 and '74, and is a gentleman eminently worthy the important trust for which he is now proposed.

JOHN SCHREINER, nominee for Treasurer of State, is an honest German, and hails from the county of Meigs; is capable, and his word is ever as good as his bond.

THOMAS E. POWELL, for Attorney General, is a resident of Delaware, and enjoys a most enviable reputation as a judicial and legal scholar. He was a Greeley Liberal, and like nearly all the independent portion of that party, stepped into the Democratic party, rather than go back to rotten Republicanism.

H. E. O'HAGAN, of Erie, is the candidate for Member of Board of Public Works, and his acquaintance with the peculiar duties of the position for which he is named, is almost unrivaled, and if elected will make a faithful and competent officer.

The ticket is an excellent one, and we predict its success by a majority which will make the day of the election one long to be remembered on account of the complete route and overthrow of Grant's third-term advocates and shameless indorsers. You may as well come down, gentlemen; you have sinned grievously and infamously; your race is run; it is not in your power to mislead the independent, honest, and tax-ridden people of Ohio, by the howl of "Catholic influence" and a division of the School Fund; the handwriting is up on the wall; like the monarch of Babylon, you have been "weighed in the balance and found wanting"; you have been probed to the bottom—your vessel has been struck below the water line, and found to be rotten to the core; and there is no undeveloped power in your condemned organization that can avert the popular storm.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.
The Democratic platform which was adopted at Columbus on the 17th inst., by the largest Convention that ever assembled in Ohio, is a clear and outspoken expression of principles, touching all matters in which the people have an interest. The first proposition announced looks to restoring the Government to its early practical operations as declared and understood by the fathers of the Republic. This reform is imperiously demanded, provided the people intend to maintain a free government and perpetuate the same unimpaired to their children.

The second proposition declared, is against the aggression, by either department of the government, upon the functions of the other and to the exercise by Federal authority of any of the powers "reserved by the Constitution to the States respectively or to the people." This is a whole-some plank in the platform, and was very opportunely declared by the Convention, when the Federal power under the guise of a military necessity, has invaded the rights reserved under the Constitution to the States, as in the case of Louisiana, and in many other instances. These are dangerous precedents on the part of the Federal government, and if allowed to pass uncondemned by the people, will run into usage and subordinate State Rights to Federal rule, and thereby establish an empire, as claimed to be correct in the Republican platform, under the idea that the union of the States constitutes a nation. In this respect there is a radical difference between the Democratic and Republican platforms, the one announcing the early fatherhood of the Republic, a government of and for the benefit of the people, and the other the old Federal idea of the few to rule the many, in the interest of those in authority.

The third plank announces the duty of the government of protection to "all citizens, without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude." This doctrine is right within itself, and therefore must meet the approbation of every fair and thoughtful citizen.

The fourth plank is pointed as to a limitation of the President's salary, to what it was fixed in the Constitution, $25,000 per year, and acquiesced in by all parties for nearly one hundred years. No change was contemplated until the Federal government began to invade the rights of the States under Grant's administration, when it was concluded by those in authority that it was necessary to increase the President's salary, for the purpose of conforming his position to a closer analogy to the sovereigns and potentates of Europe. To this end the salary grab originated in Congress, and for the purpose of inducing this "capable and judicious statesman," who never declines money, to sign the bill, his salary was doubled, and he now draws out of the national Treasury $50,000 annually, which the people will be compelled to pay until the Democracy come into power.

The fifth plank declares for retrenchment and reform in every department of the government, Federal, State and Local. Every true friend of the country in which he lives, will certainly sanction this declaration, and the Democratic party, so far as it had the control of the public affairs, has fully vindicated and sustained this doctrine by its work, whereas the Republican party, which has had control of affairs for years, has proven woefully deficient, as all impartial persons must admit.

The sixth plank declares against grants of land or money by the government, or the use of its credit to railroads, steam ships or other companies. This declaration is so manifestly in the interest of the people, that the Republican party was compelled to insert a similar one in its platform, notwithstanding that party has given away since it has been in power, nearly half the public domain to railroad corporations, and squandered vast amounts of revenues in creating steam-ship lines.

The seventh plank declares the Democratic doctrine to be "the preservation of the remnant of public lands for the benefit of citizens of the United States and foreign emigrants, who have declared their intention to become citizens of such, who will occupy and cultivate the same." This is truly Democratic policy, and stands in pointed contrast with the feeling of the Republican party upon this subject, and will surely commend itself to all fair minded persons.

The 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, relates to the currency, and pointedly condemns the policy of the Republican party in contracting the currency, and claims it to be a measure in the interest of the bond-holders and against that of labor. The Democratic platform demands that this policy shall be abandoned and that the volume of currency be made and kept equal to the wants of trade, leaving the restoration of legal tenders to par with gold, to be brought about by promoting the industries of the people, instead of destroying them by further contraction. These are the most important planks in the platform, a policy once favored by all parties, but now abandoned by the Republican, which is run in the exclusive interest of the Bondholders, for it is obvious as contraction proceeds and legal tenders are retired, the bonds are enhanced in value and the enterprise of the people crippled, and price of labor correspondingly diminished. This is what the bondholders want and consequently every one of them are for it, and are now pressing the measure upon the people through the Republican organization. In the language of the ninth plank of the Platform, the Democracy condemns the policy of the Republican party inaugurated, of abolishing legal tenders and giving the National Banks the power to furnish all the currency, and thereby further increase the grasp of already dangerous monopolies and the enormous burden now pressing upon the people, without any compensating advantage, and demands that all national currency be promptly retired, and legal tenders issued in their place. This policy means business in the interest of the people, but will be opposed to the bitter end by the bondholders and all their emissaries throughout the land.

The thirteenth plank is so plain and pointed on the question of dividing the School Fund and the complete separation of Church and State, that it cannot fail to satisfy every man of ordinary intelligence, that the howl of the Radicals about the Democrats giving any sect, directly or indirectly, special privileges of any of the School Fund, is the thinnest nonsense in the world, and is only done for the purpose of misleading the honest masses and forcing upon us a religious warfare for the benefit of the thieves in power. The resolution is a complete vindication of the Democratic party on this question, and knocks the bottom out of this School Fund clap-trap.

In the 14th plank the Democratic party in its manhood was plain and outspoken upon the so-called temperance crusade, while the Republicans were timid and cowardly ignored the matter, for the purpose of claiming in one locality of the State temperance views and in another denying them. This independent declaration on the part of the democracy, ought to be sufficient guarantee to all liberal minded persons, that it is unalterably opposed to any crusade upon the social habits of the people not within themselves criminal.

Taken all together the platform is one of the most splendid and outspoken in the true interests of the people, ever promulgated in Ohio or any other State in the Union, and we ask for it a careful reading of all the laboring classes of Preble county, and a candid comparison with the one adopted by the Radicals.

WANTED!

A platform to suit the Cincinnati Commercial.

A candidate for Governor of Ohio, to stand on a platform made in Wall street, New York, and warrahted metallic. Enquire at office of Cincinnati Commercial.

A competent christian Radical to organize Know Nothing lodges in Preble county. Enquire at Dayton Journal office.

To know the address of "Rev." J. G. WHITE—he can secure an engagement from the radical party to save the State of Ohio from the terrible Catholics. Enquire at Revenue Collectors office, Dayton, O.

A General and Lieutenant General of the armies of the United States, to relieve SHERMAN and SHERIDAN, who are dangerous Catholics. Enquire at Register office.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

The daily papers of Saturday morning last, gave us accounts from many points in south-western and central Ohio and southern Indiana, of shocks of an earthquake, in some places so severe that chimneys and houses were shattered. In St. Mary's, Greenville, Lima, Urbana, Ohio; and Richmond, Union city, and Liberty, Ind., the shock was very severe. It is claimed by some that it "shook" Eaton. We think it did.

"Distinguished success of his administration," and "capable and judicious statesman," is the fulsome praise of the Republican Radical Convention of Ohio, upon a man who has for four years deliberately stolen $25,000 a year from the oppressed and tax-ridden people of the country, and who has rewarded more thieves and scoundrels with public positions, than all the Presidents that have governed us since Washington down to the great national robber himself! And this is the party that is asking a longer lease of power and more opportunity for plunder? Tax payers, will the howl of the "bread and butter brigade" induce you to vote for no change?

The editor of the Register has had a talk with an "old friend" who was a Liberal and has now gone back. We have had a talk with several old friends who are going forward! We advise the Colonel to take this "old friend" and embalm him or lock him up in a nursery until the election, or he may go forward again!

Take the DEMOCRAT.

WHAT THE OHIO LEGISLATURE ACCOMPLISHED.

It reduced taxation for State purposes six hundred thousand dollars. It cut down appropriations for the two years of nearly one million dollars.

It reduced the salaries of county officers of the State about three hundred thousand dollars per annum. It fixed a lower tariff of prices to be charged by railroads for passengers and freight.

It reduced the tolls upon turnpikes. It passed numerous laws relieving the courts, in order that speedy justice might be secured to litigants, among which was the repeal of the second trial act, requiring judges to divide and equalize their labor, and giving Justices of the Peace final jurisdiction in cases of one hundred dollars.

It authorized the appointment of a commission to revise the statutes of Ohio, which were in confusion and frequently contradicted.

It has submitted a proposition to amend the Constitution so as to authorize a commission to relieve the Supreme Court, which is now six years behind with its business. There are a few of the more important measures adopted by the Legislature. They are all in the direction of economy, for the correction of abuses and for the relief of the people.

The more the actual work of the last session is examined and understood, the more it will be commended to the approval of the tax-payers of the State.—Portsmouth Times.

Amid the vast amount of misrepresentation of the nature and purposes of the GEGHAN bill, both inside the State and outside of it, it is refreshing to find the following in the Chicago Tribune:

"Relative to the GEGHAN bill, passed by the late Legislature of Ohio, and providing equal privileges for all religious sects in public reformatory, penal, and eleemosynary institutions there is no question as to its intrinsic propriety and justice. The Tribune has never reflected on the character of this law; on the contrary it has approved its purpose, and believes that a law should be adopted in all the States where bigoted officials exclude the inmates of any public institution from the consolations of their own Church; where there is no official attempt of this kind the law is unnecessary. The law embodies a principle of common justice, which needs only to be formulated where the principle has been ignored."

This is the exact truth about that bill, and it is concerning this measure that Grant's organ-grinders are raising such a howl, and endeavoring to drag religion into politics, in order to mislead the people from the corruptions and rascalities of the Republican party. The Eaton Register used to quote extensively from the Tribune as good authority.—Couldn't it copy this little bit of good sense for its readers?

The Republican platform dubs Grant a "capable and judicious statesman!" That is check! He is "capable and judicious" enough to steal $25,000 a year of the hard earnings of the toiling masses to keep him lounging around Long Branch! This is what constitutes a "capable statesman" according to the Republican Convention that nominated Hayes. Do the tax-payers of Ohio want any more such "capable and judicious statesmen" to keep at fancy watering places?

The Dayton city editor of the Register has the devious and ravenous beast of "Catholic influence" by the tail, and if that should break, we will be literally chewed, masticated, smashed, crushed, crashed and torn to tatters by the Pope! We invoke the prayers of the "truly good," that he may have strength to hold to this "tale" until after the October election. We have a kind of hankering not to be mown down, swallowed up, annihilated and extinguished until after that important event! Will the brethren pray for this "tail-hold" to hold on!

A Know Nothing party is now being organized by the Radicals of this county, in the hope that religious persecution may help the Grant thieves and robbers to hold on to the offices. A few religious bigots and the "crusade" element is about all that will be coaxed into the organization.

The Ohio Republican Convention had not checked enough to attack the GEGHAN bill. That is left for the small fry politicians and the organ-grinders of the "capable and judicious statesman," who is willing to be "sacrificed" four years more at $50,000 per annum!

"Capable and judicious statesman," applied to Grant, by the Republican Convention, is too good.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

"The Democratic party of Ohio, in State Convention assembled, proclaim the following propositions of political faith and action:

"1. A sacred adherence to the principles of government declared and put in practical operation by the fathers of the Republic.

"2. Opposition to aggressions by either Department of the Government upon the functions of the others, and to exercise by Federal authority of any of the powers reserved by the Constitution to the States respectively, or to the people.

"3. The protection of the Government to all citizens, without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude.

"4. The President's service should be limited to one term, at a salary of $25,000 a year.

"5. Retrenchment and reform in every department of Government, Federal, State and Local.

"6. No grants of land or money by the Government, or use of its credit to railroad, steamship or other companies.

"7. The preservation of the remnant of public lands for the benefit of citizens of the United States and foreign emigrants who have declared their intention to become such, who will occupy and cultivate the same.

"8. That the contraction of the currency heretofore made by the Republican party, and the further contraction proposed by it with a view to the forced resumption of specie payment, has already brought disaster to the business of the country, and threatens it with general bankruptcy and ruin. We demand that this policy be abandoned, and that the volume of currency be made and kept equal to the wants of trade, leaving the restoration of legal tenders to par with gold to be brought about by promoting the industries of the people, not by destroying them.

"9. That the policy already initiated by the Republican party, of abolishing legal-tenders and giving National Banks the power to furnish all the currency, will increase the power of an already dangerous monopoly, and the enormous burden now pressing the people, without any compensating advantage; and that we oppose to this policy the demand that all the National Bank circulation be promptly and permanently retired, and legal-tenders be issued in their place.

"10. That the public interest demands that the Government should endeavor to discredit its own currency, and should make its legal-tenders receivable for all public dues except where respect for the obligation of contracts requires payment in coin; and that we favor the payment of at least one-half of the customs in legal tenders.

"11. The extinction of the present National Banks and the establishment in their stead of a system of free banks of discount and deposit only, under such regulations as the States may respectively prescribe, and no paper currency except such as may be issued directly by and upon the faith of the general Government.

"12. A tariff for the sole purpose of revenue.

"13. We favor the complete separation of Church and State, religious independence and absolute freedom of opinion, equal and exact justice to all religious societies, and purely secular education at the expense of the tax-payer, without division among or control by any sect, directly or indirectly, of any portion of the Public School Fund. In view of the admitted provisions of our State Constitution upon these subjects, which are due to the energy and wisdom of the Democratic party, we denounce the Republican platform as an insult to the intelligence of the people of Ohio and a base appeal to sectarian prejudices.

"14. That we are opposed to the passage of what are called sumptuary laws, or any interference with social habits or customs not in themselves criminal; and we reprobate espionage by one class of citizens upon another, under any pretense whatever.

"With this declaration of principles and policy we arraign the leaders of the Republican party for their extravagant expenditures and profligate waste of the people's money; for their oppressive, unjust and defective system of finance and taxation; for their continued tyranny and cruelty to the Southern States of the Union; for their squandering of the public lands; for their continuance of incompetent and corrupt men in office, at home and abroad, and for their general mismanagement of the Government. And we cordially invite all men, without regard to past party associations, to co-operate with us in expelling them from power, and in securing such an administration of public affairs as characterized the purer and better days of the Republic."

DIVISION OF THE SCHOOL FUND.

The Republican party is plainly bent on making a full-belted about an alleged proposed division of the school fund for sectarian purposes in this State.

As the present Constitution of Ohio and the school law in pursuance thereof were made by the Democracy of this State, the charge that the Democracy mean to overthrow their own work in this matter is very absurd. But it may be well to refer to some things in this connection.

Doubtless there are few religious organizations among us that would not desire religious instruction in accordance with their own doctrines to be imparted and disseminated to the children attending the common schools—at least to the children of parents holding fast to the own faith. We have seen and read arguments to this effect by Lutheran, Presbyterian and Episcopal clergymen, as well as by Catholic Bishops and priests.

Last week, in the Long Island Diocese of the Episcopal Church, in Brooklyn, the Committee on Christian Education made a strong report in denunciation of the common schools, and in favor of the establishment of a system of Episcopal schools for both religious and secular instruction.

We remember reading a report of a similar nature that was made in a Lutheran Synod in this State a few years ago. And a learned Presbyterian Doctor of Divinity, in an address at Wooster University, pronounced the prevailing common school system as of irreligious and immoral tendencies.

But, says somebody, it is the Roman Catholic utterances, such as those of Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, at Cincinnati, the other day, that are dangerous. This, in our judgment (and we are orthodox Protestants) is the expression of anti-Catholic fear and prejudice. The true American principle of public instruction is to enter into no "entangling alliances" with any religious body whatever.—Zanesville Signal.

LETTER FROM HANS SCHLOCHENBACH.

What Hans Dinks About Der Skule Question.

POWERSVILLE, Shure 10th, '75.

Shon Doren:

Vat you dinks? I bin to Cincinnati tonder day, and I comes back by Eaton. Dot ish von devil ein blance. Vat you dinks? Dey got some fellers dere vat live by Dayton, and he come over by Eaton ust a little vile somedimes, and he edit dem Eaton Register, and raise der devil bout dem foreigner. He say dem Pope ish purty bad, and dat dem Catholic been going to destroy dem public skules and raise der devil mit der beeples, and dat dis bin der demagogue vat caus all dem dings. Now I dont relief dat.

Dem Register man vat live by Dayton bin Grant man. He haf purty goot office vat Grant gif him, and he wants dem tird term, so he can hold onto dem bullic tit like some pig hold onto de tit of some old sow ven he suck. Dat ish der vat mit dem Republicans. Dey wants to make some Know-Nothingness ust now and raise devil of a houl bout dem Catholic, and cry down dem foreingers so as to carry dem lection. But he can not do dat. Dem fellers vat comes from Sherman and Switzerland, and dem blacos, know purty well vat dem Grant fellers bin 'bout, and dey can not make fool mit us.

I bin no Catholic, and I care nodings bout dem Pope, but ven dem fellers talk dat vat dey bin know-nodings and wants to play schnooks mit der Yermans. He not know dot it bin der Democrats vat make dem bullic skule, more ash fin and schwany years ago, and dot offer since we haf dem Constitution, vot dem Republicans vote against at dot time, we haf den goot public skules, and dot it make some goot dings.

I not dink dem beeples bin such fool as to listen to dem houl bout dem Pope. Dem Pope can do notings mit five million Catholics, ven dere bin thirty-five millions in dis country, and dem Dayton feller vot got dem Register, by Eaton, bin purty big fool. I dinks dem Democrat feller, by Eaton, bin purty schmart, and he raise der devil mit dem Dayton feller. Purty soon I writes mit you again.

Dish ish from
HANS SCHLOCHENBACH.

Let the tax-ridden and Grant-robbed farmers and laboring men of Preble county compare the policy proclaimed in the Democratic platform with that of the Republican, and then independently decide which will be the best for their interest and prosperity.

If old "Jim Jans" of the Eaton Register had applied to the Secretary of the Central Committee, he could have been furnished the names of the gentlemen who went to Columbus as Delegates.

If the blatherskite editors that are opposing GUY ALLEN, can find no greater objection to him than his age, and have no severer epithet than "Foghorn," he will have rather smooth sailing through the canvass.

Let every honest Republican in the county read the Democratic platform and compare its sentiments and principles with the Republican, and then choose for himself.
